

Agency / Client emails ads@adtext.tv with scripts and clock numbers for idents / commercials, method of distribution & distribution date

Client instructs the distribution company, production company or facility house to deliver the commercials / idents to Adtext on required format

Format ingested by Adtext. The commercial / ident is then subtitled, proofed and encoded

The ident / commercial is returned to the distribution company, production company or broadcaster, depending on method of delivery

Please always use email address ads@adtext.tv which is checked constantly between 09.30-21.00
